DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 20 April 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
2. In response to applicant's argument that Chung does not disclose a clamping member that is configured to clamp living tissues, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). The clamping member is fully capable of grabbing and clamping living tissue.
3. Applicant's arguments, see page 7, filed 20 April 2005, with respect to claims 1, 5-7, and 11 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The obviousness-type double patenting rejection of claims 1, 5-7, and 11 has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1, 5-7, 11, 12, 14, 15, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chung et al. 6719763.

The applied reference has a common Assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Chung et al. teaches an endoscopic suture apparatus comprising: an endoscope including an insertion section; a puncture member; a holding member having a distal end portion and a proximal end portion, the proximal end portion thereof being removably attached to a distal end portion of the insertion section; a clamping member fully capable of clamping living tissues; a drive member; opening portion; a treatment space; and a fixing member (see figure).

As to claim 14 and 17, Chung teaches the endoscopic suture apparatus according to claim 1 and to claim 5. It should be noted that Chung fails to teach wherein the puncture member keeps its penetrating state when a suture treatment is finished. However the apparatus of Chung is fully capable of having the puncture member brought to the penetrating state after a suture treatment is finished.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2-4 and 8-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
